Download William Pullman JVC Everio video cameras for PC connection, which allows you to transfer and back up your video files to your computer. Transferring video files saves space for internal hard drive and installed memory card, so you can record more videos. There are two options for downloading video files: MediaBrowser 4, which is the software provided with the video camera, or Windows Explorer. Both settings create a USB connection to your computer. Download Everio MediaBrowser 4 from the Pixela website (link sources), double-click on the downloaded file and follow the on-screen instructions to install the software. Connect the mini-USB end of the USB cable to the EVERIO USB port, and then connect the standard USB end of the cable to the USB port on your computer. The USB port is located behind the LCD screen of the GX and E/EX Everio models, behind the front door on the back of the V/VX models. Select Connect to computer on the Everio LCD screen, and then select Backup. Everio MediaBrowser 4 software opens on your computer. Click On Every Volume in your video camera for Everio MediaBrowser 4, and then click Next. Make a note of where you want to save your videos, and then click Start. You'll see the message Completed successfully when the video transfer is complete. Connect everio to your computer, select Connect to computer on the Everio LCD screen, and then select Play on PC. Close Everio MediaBrowser 4 when it opens on your computer. Click Windows Start, and then click Computer. Right-click the JVCCAM_SD the video camera's internal memory, JVCCAM_MEM the memory card. Select Copy from the drop-down menu. Right-click the location on the computer where you want to store the videos, and then click Paste. Videos are downloaded from the camera to your computer.
